Summary:

Q4 performance was mixed, but SaaS Gross within 1% of forecast:

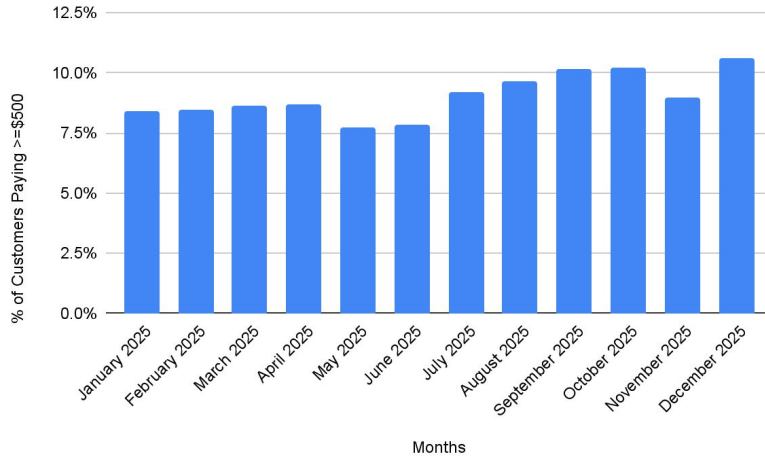

- Sync volume underperformed forecast due to continued Intuit App Store headwinds, finishing ~19% below plan. Despite this, new customer acquisition finished broadly in line with forecast, reflecting strong conversion efficiency.
- New subscription revenue came in below plan due to lower ARPC than forecast, while Professional Services materially outperformed expectations, helping offset SaaS softness.
- Overall SaaS gross revenue finished slightly below forecast, with strong PS performance and stable customer conversion signaling healthy underlying demand.

Actions:

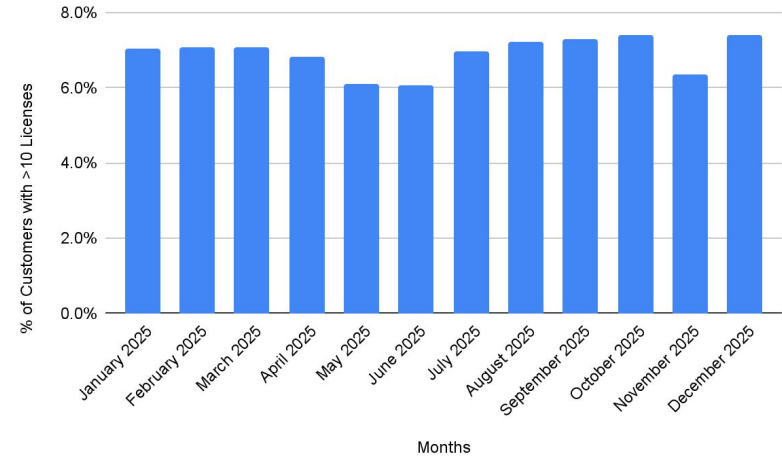

- Continue driving ARR growth through strong conversion efficiency and Professional Services expansion, while reinforcing churn reduction initiatives to support sustained revenue growth.

Notes: Green indicates above target, yellow is used when <5% variance, red indicates > 5% variance to forecast. The exception is SaaS Gross, where if >2% variance, it is marked as red.

Q4-2025 Enterprise Account Tracking

% of Accounts Paying > $500/mth

% of Accounts with > 10 Licenses

*Please note that this chart had a previous error which resulted in the results appearing slightly (~1.25%) higher and to go up more smoothly. While the trend is the same, the results are now more uneven month to month.
